

Step 1: What is your soul path?

Name your life's ambition, dream, vision, calling or passion.

A large green rectangular area with a black border. It contains six horizontal blue lines for writing. On the left side, there are five small silver circular bullet points, each aligned with one of the lines.

Step 2: What will your soul path bring you?

Name the benefits, consequences and pros/ cons that come with following your dream.

A large light blue rectangular area with a black border. It contains six horizontal blue lines for writing. On the left side, there are five small silver circular bullet points, each aligned with one of the lines.

Step 3: What is your career/job?

Name what you do or have done as your main source of income or livelihood.

Step 4: What does your career/job bring you?

Name the benefits, consequences and pros/ cons that come with your job.

Step 5: How much are you willing to risk, in order to follow your soul path? Look at the perks of your job. How much of this are you willing to live without or let go of.... in order to pursue your dreams?

- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____

Step 6: Change the question you are asking the Universe. Your old question to the Universe was, “How can I make money doing this?” What is your new question?

Step 7: How can you feed, nurture and love your soul path, while it’s still a baby? Write down your commitment, below.

Step 7: What’s your mantra or “aha” moment? For example, “The easiest and fastest path to abundance is love, not fear and doubt.”
